DELAYED ACTION INCENDIARY BOMBS, LEFT BEHIND BY COMMANDOS WRECKING DIEPPE, ARE CAUSING NEW FIRES, HAVOC

Latest Reports from Prefect State That Damage to City Was Extremely Heavy—Civilian Casualties Total 36 Killed, 63 Wounded—List 1800 Allied Prisoners Taken

VICHY, Aug. 21—(INS)—Delayed action incendiary bombs left behind by the Commandos who wrecked the channel city of Dieppe are causing new fires and havoc in the German coastal stronghold, Fernand de Brinon the Vichy Government's Ambassador to Paris, reported today.

Latest reports from the Prefect of the Seine-Inférieure Department and from the Sub-Prefect of Dieppe itself, said that damage to the city was extremely heavy, De Brinon's advisers said.

The first detachment of British, Canadian, American and De Gaullist troops entered the streets of Dieppe at 9.30 a. m., he said, and half an hour later tanks rolled up on the beaches. Civilian casualties totalled 36 killed and 63 wounded, De Brinon said. He listed Allied prisoners at 1,800.

LONDON, Aug. 21—(INS)—Smashing blows against the Nazi-held coast of France to "soften" the German defenses in preparation for eventual invasion were underway today.

Hardly had the last of the Commando forces returned to the shores of England yesterday from the daring raid on Dieppe when an Allied air armada of 500 fighters and an American Flying Fortress squadron renewed their battering assaults on Nazi fortifications and other military objectives.

The fighter squadrons, including American, Royal Air Force and Dominion units, just before dusk made a tremendous four-pronged sweep across Nazi-controlled northern France.

Simultaneously United States Flying Fortresses, accompanied by a fighter escort, bombed the railway terminal at Amiens, 60 miles east of Dieppe.

This third consecutive assault by the huge American bombers—without loss of a single plane on any of the three raids—presaged the start of daily forays by the devastating aerial monsters. They supported the Commando raid at Dieppe Wednesday by paralyzing the Nazi airdrome at Abbeville and the day previously bombed rail centers at Rouen to hamper communications lines by which German reinforcements could be rushed to Dieppe.

Combined operations headquarters which planned the Commando raid on Dieppe meanwhile issued a communique pronouncing the operation a success.

Exchangeites Partake of Dinner Cooked in the Open

Bristol Exchangeites met at the home of David Sheffer, Bristol Township, last evening where a delicious menu, including T-bone steaks, were served over an open fireplace.

Additional Sugar Allowed for Canning

The Bucks County War Price and Rationing Boards have been advised by the Office of Price Administration that additional sugar for canning may be allowed to prevent the waste of fresh fruit.

If a family unit finds that the original sugar allotment which was obtained for canning was insufficient, they may apply to their local War Price and Rationing Board. When making the application for additional canning sugar, it will be necessary to state the quantity of fruits canned so far during the 1942 canning season.

Warns of Lights in Store Windows at Time of Blackout

DOYLESTOWN, Aug. 21—A rule promulgated under the State of Pennsylvania "Air Raid Precaution Act" states that during any Practice Blackout or Air Raid Drill (signified by sounding of air raid alarm), compliance with the following is demanded by law:

1. Extinguish all lights. This method is not generally recommended as it disrupts home life and lowers morale.
2. Obscure all lights and prevent any reflections on the outside which might be visible to the enemy. Extinguish all lights, except for lights in a prepared "blackout room" which will not permit even a glow to the outside.

It has come to the attention of this office that stores and other buildings which normally allow night lights to burn or have time controlled lights have not in several cases complied with this law. It is the duty of the Air Raid Warden, Emergency Police or other members of the Citizens Defense Corps to report such violation for prosecution under the Act of Assembly with a possible fine of $200 and imprisonment of 90 days or both.

This Act of Assembly has, and will continue to be enforced. It is suggested that all stores and buildings immediately install a "warden's switch" so that during any blackout test or raid, these night lights may be extinguished by the warden. Immediately after the "all clear" signal is received, the warden will turn on the lights as he found them.

Failure of any single person or group to follow the laws governing blackout tests or air raids procedure results in the breaking down of general civilian co-operation and your help is needed in making your community effective in all defense efforts.

EARL D. BLAIR,
Chief County Air Raid Warden

WHAT OUR BOYS ARE DOING TO WIN THE WAR

A Bristol soldier is a member of the 88th Bombardment Group, part of which contingent last week participated in an attack on four Italian cruisers moored in an Ionian seacoast port.

The young man is Staff Sergeant George R. Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Brown, of 349 Garfield street, who is based "somewhere" in Egypt.

Brown has been in the U. S. Army Air Corps since December 12th, last, he having enlisted. He is No. 1 radio man on one of the B-24 bombers of the type which took part in last week's attack. It was in late July that Brown left the United States for foreign points. He was formerly employed by Rohm & Haas Company.

When the American planes swooped down at their objective in the 1300 miles round-trip attack, they badly battered Mussolini's navy. Maintaining high altitude and moving diagonally across the target, four cruisers moored in a straight line, the crews of the bombers made two direct hits on one cruiser; another was set ablaze; bombs which fell beside the third cruiser caused explosions as fragments apparently struck oil or munitions stores; and the fourth apparently escaped damage.

One Man's Opinion By Walter Klerman (I. N. S. Staff Writer)

Here we go again. The WLB refusal of a dollar-a-day increase to aluminum workers is "not acceptable to the union."

Says Mr. N. A. Zonarich, union president, "If a strike is to be avoided, either the board must reconsider its decision or President Roosevelt should intervene directly."

So here we go again.

Sure—we've got pledges of no strikes. Phil Murray and Bill Green must have made about a dozen each so far—and we've got the machinery to, theoretically, prevent strikes.

But Mr. Zonarich minces no words. "If a strike is to be avoided either the board must reconsider its decision or President Roosevelt should intervene directly."

If the game doesn't come out satisfactorily we must change the rules or ask the head umpire to play on our side.

Nice stuff, eh?

Of course we need aluminum. There are few materials we need more than aluminum. So what are we going to do about it?

Thought for the day: Let's put off until tomorrow what we should do today.

successful demonstration of co-ordination of all three services—the land, sea and air forces.

The Commando leaders, headed by Lord Louis Mountbatten, cousin of King George VI, declared that the Dieppe raid was "a reconnaissance in force having a vital part in our agreed offensive policy."

One of the most favorable results of the land, air and sea assault which brought about the largest battle in western Europe since the fall of France was the destruction of a major part of the Nazi defending air force.

The Commando communiqué said that 91 German planes definitely were known to have been destroyed and added:

"About twice that number probably were destroyed or damaged."

Thus the toll of Nazi fighter craft reached 273 out of an estimated 500 the Germans had based in northern France and Belgium.

TO THE BLUE AND WHITE AFIELD

By JAY DEE

I wrote a little poem and I'll dedicate it to The boys of Ed DeKoy who wear the white and blue. They contribute to a ball field a grand old brand of ball And play like eager sportsmen without a whimper or a stall.

So to make my little poem seem true and not a dream I'll take each individual player and show you what I mean. With VanZant doing the catching and Linck upon the mound No greater combination could be found in any town.

The initial sack's protected by a lad from Tullytown Everybody seems to know when Bill Leigh's upon the grounds. The hot corner's safely covered by Felkner, alumnus of "Falls," With a nice three forty five, he can certainly hit that ball.

The keystone sack is guarded by J. Dick, an Edgelyite. Who takes the plays at second and goes right on to fight. "Chick" Doster, with his power, takes over at shortstop And has an eye for batting that keeps him up on top.

Then in the outer garden comes three who will not yield As Hunter roams in center and can slug as well as field. And Left Field's taken care of by Dewsnap's catches high and wide And Rockhill completes the trio and takes right field right in stride.

Howard Black and Turner Ashby are on the pitching staff They were tutored in the old school and know how to get a laugh. Their age no interference as the baseball records show For they know how to study batters and know just what to throw.

VanLenten, Oppman, Dennis, make up the substitutions For relief roles and to pinch hit and make that their contributions. And to their Uncle Sammy they gave youthful Stanley Dick Who didn't lose a ball game and knew how to use the stick.

Their pilot, Ed DeKoy, who stuck through thick and thin Has proved to you and others that he can take it on the chin. He can also lose a ball game and congratulate his team For they had their colors flying but just lacked a little steam.

Now that I have showed you why this poem's not a dream I'll now turn my attention to the folks who cheer the team. You all have been a good crowd who cheered and helped with change To make the national pastime to be Edgely's game of games.

Now they're not out on the diamond to gain fortune or fame They're out there because they love the grand old game. So come out your loyal rooters and help them on their way To shout and root and holler as they make play-by-play.

green pouch bag, white shorty gloves, front. The modeled bodice featured a soft cowl neckline.

Ann Sheridan, who will be seen shortly in "Wings for the Eagle," looked cool and summery at the Hollywood Brown Derby for lunch the other day. Ann wore a smart summer outfit of brown and white hound's tooth checked gingham. The dress, styled on shirtmaker lines, with box-pleats in both skirt and bodice, was topped with a fitted linen jacket of monotone brown. A large pompadour chapeau of brown linen was banded in white grosgrain, and accessories were white.

Faith Clark's SHOPPING TIPS FOR BUDGETEERS

SCARCE, BUT HERE in Snellenburg's 2nd fl. Fur Coat Dept. are some of the lovely Mouton processed lamb coats. Exceedingly smart, these coats are slightly swaggy and dress length. The roll shawl collars are more than flattering. Mouton comes in two colors—beaver and the darker brown matara. An amazingly economical pre-season sale price—$98. For a new and practical fur coat, I advise you to see these first. Both the style and fur are flattering. Wear from dawn to dark to dawn!

ACTUALLY, Snellenburgs have bed pillows aplenty! A thousand or more from which to order, and that's something these days. I recommend three groups, especially, selling at prices exceptionally low for the present—$2.99, $4.49 and $5.99. The first mentioned has 10% duck down plus 90% duck feathers; the second, 25% duck down plus 75% duck feathers; the third, 50% duck down plus 50% duck feathers. All pillows cut size 21x37 in linen-finish down-proof blue-and-green ticking. Don't miss this really puffy opportunity! Pillow and Blanket Section, 2nd fl.

TOPS WITH ME and incredibly low priced is the new Conant Ball (swanky manufacturer's) bedroom suite known as the "County Garden Design." That suite is a lovely, lovely thing, yet a three-piece basic group of it can now be had for as low as $149 (August Sale price), instead of $160 (regular price). Group consists of Dresser plus Mirror, 5-Drawer Chest, Single or Double Bed. As the furniture folks themselves say, there's poetry in the charm of this design of hand-painted posies on rich off-white enamel! 5th fl. on "Thrill Row." Come and succumb.

BELIEVE IT OR NOT, here is news of a discovery that makes a damp room and even a damp cellar dry. Imagine it! All for the original cost of $3.95 for the "Air Dryette," and $2.90 for a hundred pounds of Calcium Chloride to be used in ten-pound portions. The flakes are suspended over an easily emptied pan and the whole measures only 16 1/2 x 10 1/2 x 12 ins. The solution is eventually useful in other fields. An interesting booklet tells you how and why. The "Dryette" keeps things from warping and molding. Are "Air Dryettes" selling? I'll say! Snellenburg's Housewares Dept., 3rd fl.

LUXURIOUS COMFORT at less cost than a chaise longue! Besides, this arrangement of generous, bedroom arm chair with a separate ottoman is far more practical than its French cousin. I can't believe that both can be had for the one price of $19.95! Spring seats, high tufted back, and done in gorgeous garden bouquet cretonnes, mostly egg-shell, rose, coral, or dubonnet grounds. Even he'll enjoy it. Snellenburg's 5th fl. Furniture Dept. Get one and let me know! Nice gifts, too.

RIGHT WEIGHT in towels is most important. An all-purpose turkish towel by a good manufacturer is selling in Snellenburg's Towel Department (2nd fl.) at 49c. It is most absorbent, yet not the weighty sort that boosts laundry bills! Measures 22x44 ins. Snowy white with neat pastel borders. Best towel buy I've seen!

AT LAST we are offered practical overalls for women. Only, in this instance, they are called "Victoralls" and they're stunning. Designed for women war workers, but civilian women, too, are snapping them up. Snellenburg's 2nd fl. Sports Wear Dept. for women has a whole counter of smart war-work garments for women, sizes from 12 to 20 and 40 to 44. The first mentioned "Victoralls" are one-piece, sleeveless and generously trousered. Made of sturdy cotton cord or pin check. Side pockets and concealed fly front for quick donning and doffing. Cost $3.95. Other "workies," $3.50 to $5.95. Swell!

A NEW ARRIVAL! The "Timmie Tuft" coats over which school and college girls are practically daft are sweeping the educational world. A "Timmie Tuft" has the depth of fur and is made of real alpaca, the animal fibres, like camel's hair, which are proof against rain, matting, and water spotting. This new coat looks equally well over slacks or evening gowns! This "Timmie" is definitely a winter coat, but buy while the selection is tops. Seek Snellenburg's 2nd fl. Coat Dept. and look over the lovely gold and brown shades with tailored linings and colored facings. There's a size to fit any figure! And only $29.50!

P.S. You out-of-town folks may make free toll telephone calls up to fifteen cents free, when ordering. Pennsylvanians just call Enterprise 10160, and New Jersey folks are taken care of by calling WX 1150. Nice? Faithfully, FAITH.

Members of the Women Missionary Society, of Churchville, met at the church a few days ago to make articles for the Christmas box to be sent to Kentucky.

The monthly meeting, held in the afternoon, opened with a prayer by Mrs. Floyd V. Nagel, who presided. After the business session the president conducted the devotional period and poems were read by Mrs. William Lennon, Mrs. Winder Vanartsdalen and Mrs. Nagel. Mrs. Frank Saurman gave several news items.

The program on "The Migrants" was in charge of Miss Helen Saurman, who explained who the migrants are, where they are, how they live and how they travel. She outlined the chief problems of the migrants as bad living conditions, lack of education and lack of citizenship, and told how the government has in recent years taken steps to relieve these conditions by providing permanent camps and traveling camps where migrant families can be sheltered.

A farewell party was given recently for Mrs. Clarence Heckler at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Fretz, Chalfont, by Miss Doris Fly. Those present included: Mrs. Madeline Fitzgerald and Mrs. Mildred Kuhn, Allentown; Mrs. Helen Thierolf, Blooming Glen; Mr. and Mrs. Abram Borneman and daughter, Dorothy, Souderton; Miss Florence Zepp, Lansdale, and Mrs. Ronald Wilson, Mrs. Ralph Fretz, Mrs. Joseph Woodall, Mrs. Catherine Master, Mrs. Raymond Fly, Mrs. A. W. Thierolf, Mrs. Edwin W. Fly and the Misses Carol Burkhardt, Kathryn Bishop and Doris and Ruth Fly, of Chalfont.

Appropriate traveling gifts were presented to Mrs. Heckler, who left to join her husband in Glendale, Cal.

Mr. Heckler was inducted into the armed forces at Fort Meade, Md., on June 13, and from there was sent to Keesler Field, Miss., where he was given training as an airplane mechanic. He recently was transferred to Glendale, Cal.

Canvassing of residents continues in the Manor Park sector of Morrisville by the Fourth Ward committee which plans to erect an "honor roll" for all Morrisville men in the service of the United States.

Estimates are being received for the plaque, which will be placed either at the Manor Park School, in the Fourth Ward, or on the lawn of the Morrisville Bank, in the business section.

Already $118 has been collected by the committee in the Fourth Ward and more is still being received daily.

or more, will serve as an instructor of English in the junior high school beginning this fall. Mrs. Beck will teach the seventh and eighth grades since her husband, Richard R. Beck, has enlisted in the army.

Miss Priscilla Swartley, a Doylestown high school graduate, who became a member of the faculty last year, will teach mathematics in junior high school to the seventh and eighth grades.

For Miss Swartley, this change will be most satisfactory since she majored in mathematics while at Cedar Crest College, Allentown. She is taking over the work of William D. Zahniser, who is now in the army.

William Lukens, another local high school graduate, who graduated from West Chester State Teachers' College this year, will teach general science and mathematics, beginning his teaching career here.

One position, that of chemistry and physics in high school, remains to be filled, and Mr. Halderman said he is awaiting an answer to a telegram at the present time.

club was deeply appreciative for the fine services performed by Mr. Gamble. He told members that Mr. Gamble's moving would cause the loss to the local club of one of the finest song leaders in the State.

Following a delicious dinner served by women of the Emilie church a musical program was enjoyed by members. Mrs. Paul Vansant, Langhorne, sang three numbers, including: "Just Been Wondering," "The Answer," "My Laddie." She was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Harry Friedrich. Mr. Gamble then sang, "Oh Give Me The Sword," accompanied by Mrs. Gamble. A violin solo, "Evening Prayer," was rendered by Mrs. Gamble, accompanied by Mrs. Friedrich.

Club singing was also enjoyed under the direction of Mr. Gamble.

officers in white. The detachment, totalling 50, included 20 marines, 20 sailors, and 10 naval officers.

Some members of the American Legion, with which group Somers was affiliated, were also in uniform. On Wednesday evening many members of the American Legion Cadet Drum and Bugle Corps, the Legion and Auxiliary made their way in groups to the funeral home to pay respects.

Flowers were banked in profusion about the flag-draped casket, filling the entire front of the auditorium. Included were floral pieces from the Marine Aviators, the Naval Aviators, and organizations with which the deceased was affiliated.

The deceased, who was dressed in his blue Marine uniform, reposed in a mahogany casket.

The Rev. Paul R. Ronge, pastor of Zion Lutheran Church, was the officiating clergyman.

Long before the appointed hour of the service, 2:30 o'clock, the funeral home was filled with relatives and friends of the deceased.

tra play in the Ballroom each Friday night for the "party night" dances.

Sundays and holidays at three, seven and nine p. m., in the Music Pavilion, Frankie Schluth presents an all star stage show that features outstanding headliners of stage and screen.

Each Wednesday night a spectacular display of brilliant fireworks is presented just after dark. Roller skating every afternoon and evening is offered in Skateland and the lovely Sousa Memorial Fountain of Rainbows presents its colorful display nightly at 10.

Somers, who was a member of the U. S. Marine Reserves, was one of the first Bristol men to be called back into service. He was machine gun instructor in marine aviation at the Philadelphia Navy Yard. He had been a Marine Reserve for nearly four years.

It is believed he had sought shelter from the storm as he passed the cemetery. His lifeless body was found by two boys, brothers, as they walked through the cemetery. A metal Marine insignia on Somers' cap was partly melted, his trousers were ripped, and soles of his shoes scorched. He had been killed instantly, physicians said.

His widow is of the opinion that

Somers was enroute home for a visit when he met his death.

Sour Milk Savings

When you begin tightening the family purse strings you will find there are many short cuts to good cooking that help save pennies here and there. Take the sour milk you prefer for certain breads and cakes and biscuits because of the tender texture, the delicate, moist quality sour milk gives to home-baked goods.

Now right there is a corner you can cut! Not that sour milk is any great luxury—but still, we don't always have a painful handy nowadays.

At one time sour milk was a cornerstone in the American kitchen. Every farmer's wife had sour milk lobbing in a deep stone crock down in the springhouse. And such sour milk it was, too! The real clabbered kind—with creamy blobs of curd, smooth and rich and faintly tangy to the tongue, swimming in a blue-white, translucent film of whey.

"Sour milk and sody" was part of our American tradition, and there wasn't a good cook in the land who, before the days of "store bought" baking powder, could turn out a proper batch of biscuits without it then.

In recent years, though, sour milk has become less commonplace, for, with the fine refrigeration folks have today, milk seldom sours as nature intended that it should. And so, when we want to do some good old-fashioned baking, we must now buy sour milk or buttermilk from the dairy or the grocery. Since we seldom use the whole bottleful in cooking either, some of it is sure to be just wasted.

To eliminate these leftovers, and, at the same time, assure successful baking, why don't you make your own sour milk as you need it, by adding vinegar to the sweet milk you have on hand? Here is a general rule to follow: Add 2 tablespoons pure cider vinegar gradually to 1 cup sweet milk, stirring constantly. Sour milk, made this way, may be used in any of the recipes, calling for buttermilk or sour milk given below:

Sour Milk Molasses Cookies
Cream—
1 cup shortening.

Add gradually, creaming thoroughly—
¾ cup brown sugar.
Add, beating until fluffy—
2 eggs.

Add—
¾ cup baking molasses.
To—
½ cup pure apple butter.

Add, stirring well—
1 teaspoon baking soda.

To—
¾ cup milk.
Add gradually, stirring rapidly—
2 tablespoons pure cider vinegar.

Add—
3 cups sifted flour or enough to make a soft dough.

Drop by teaspoons on lightly greased cookie sheet and bake in moderate oven (350° F.) 15 to 20 minutes.

Butterflake Rolls

Crumble in bowl—
2 cakes fresh compressed yeast.

Add—
¼ cup sugar.

To—
1½ cups milk (room temperature).

Add slowly, stirring rapidly—
2½ tablespoons cider or distilled white vinegar.

Pour over yeast and sugar, then let stand 10 minutes.

Melt, then cool—
¼ cup butter
¼ cup lard.

Sift together—
5½ cups sifted all-purpose flour.

½ teaspoon soda.
1 teaspoon salt.

Add the melted shortening to yeast mixture. Mix well, then add sifted dry ingredients, beating until a smooth dough is formed. Transfer dough to a well greased bowl and brush top with butter. Place bowl in warm place until dough is about tripled in bulk. Turn out of bowl, without stirring, onto well floured board. Sprinkle top of dough lightly with flour, then roll out to ¼-inch in thickness. Brush dough generously with melted butter, then cut into long strips about 2 inches long.

Place three of these small pieces into each well greased muffin tin, in crisscross fashion, having third strip in same position as first. Brush tops again with butter, then set in warm place for 10 to 15 minutes. Bake in hot oven (400° F.) 15 to 20 minutes. Remove from pan at once to cake rack, unless to be served hot. Rolls separate easily in layers when eaten.

Many Women Preserve Food
For Storage in Food Banks

The Bristol school board having granted use of the high school cafeteria as a canning center for the Food Conservation Committee of Bucks County Council of Defense, a group of women met there Wednesday and canned 76 quarts of tomatoes.

The tomatoes were donated by Earl Tomb, Walter Pitzonka and Mrs. George Doffer.

The women giving their time to this war work were: Mrs. Richard Winslow, Mrs. Charles Rafike, Mrs. Ralph Scheffey, Mrs. Andrew G. Solla, Mrs. Albert Loechner, Mrs. Adam Smith, Mrs. Charles Peet, Mrs. Irving Yates, Mrs. John Wear, Mrs. Samuel Roberts, Mrs. Walter Pitzonka, Mrs. Joseph Talbot, Mrs. Russell DeLong, Mrs. Clarence Wilson, Mrs. Horace N. Davis. On Thursday morning Mrs. Russell DeLong and members of her committee marked, packed and stored the tomatoes in two of the food banks of the borough. Food being stored by this group will be used if a disaster occurs here.

The canning equipment was loaned to the committee by the women of Bristol Presbyterian Church, the Methodist Church and Mrs. Stanley Davies.

More jars are needed. Any housewife having jars to give, call Bristol 2938, and they will be called for.

The following women have contributed jars during the past week: Mrs. A. F. Winterstein, Mrs. Maurice Roche and Mrs. E. Linton Martin.

The food conservation chart of the Bucks County Council of Defense is displayed in William Strobel's garage window on Radcliffe street, where is shown amounts of food stored throughout the county.

DOUGLAS TBD-1 TORPEDO BOMBER

Shown here by the Aeronautical Chamber of Commerce of America are silhouette views of a formidable air weapon—the Douglas TBD-1 torpedo plane, known to the U. S. Navy as the "Devastator." Heavily armed, this low-wing monoplane is carrier-based. The leading edge has a scarcely noticeable taper, though a pronounced taper is noted on the trailing edge. The tail plane is tapered sharply on leading edge and the trailing edge of the rudder is curved. The three-place "Devastator" is powered by an air-cooled Wright Cyclone engine.

DIAMOND TEAM KEEPS RECORD FOR 2ND-HALF CLEAN

Softball Team Swamps Tan-Art Aggregation In League Game

FINAL SCORE IS 16 TO 6

Hetherington Hits Three Out of Four and Leads Team

The Diamond team remained unbeaten in the second half race of the Bristol Softball League by swamping the Tan-Art aggregation, 16-6, last evening on Leedom's field. It was the fifth straight win for the Big Green.

Leader of the 12 hit attack of the winners was Hetherington who had three out of four, one a triple with two on base in the third. Joe Wooley cracked out a home run with a runner on in the fifth inning.

Junior McElroy blanked the leather-workers from the third frame on and allowed six hits in the entire fray. Tan-Art had six errors, three of which came in the third to help the Diamond boys to seven runs.

BRISTOL A. A. NINE TO PLAY AT GLENSIDE

The Bristol A. A. baseball club will travel to Glenside Sunday to play the Suburban League champions of Philadelphia. The last time these clubs met was on Decoration Day when the A. A. club lost a close game to the Philadelphia club with Stan Dick hurling by the score of 2 to 1.

Manager Mulholland has signed several new players to replace the ones who are playing with Edgely and Voltz.

Joe LaPolla in right field will add more batting power to the outfield which has been lacking all season. Pagnotti will do the catching and Lonnie Heisler will toss them. Carter will hold down first, Palumbo on second base, Eddie Miksis at short and a new third baseman probably Pete Lorenz, of Kensington. The other outfielders will be Berry in left, Tettemer in center with Pete Everitt and Joe Miksis extras.

The remaining games on the A. A. schedule are August 30, Pleasantville; Sept. 6, Black Meteors; Sept. 8th, Riverton; Sept. 12th, Kensington A. A.

LIFE IN ARMY AIDS ATHLETES

Have you an idea that when a man goes into the army he slips as a sports figure?

Have you an idea that an athlete may lose some of his skill in his favorite sport by entering the Army or Navy?

Perish the thought. Take Corp. Marvin (Bud) Ward for example. The famous curly-headed golfer from the Northwest has just won the all-America amateur championship in Chicago. Of course he will be National amateur champion for the duration because that tournament will not be held again until after the war and he won the title in 1940. But he at least has the satisfaction of knowing that army life did not hurt his golf. He beat the best amateurs in the country in Chicago.

While hardening himself physically via the Army's version of Commando training, Ward has contrived to retain his hair-trigger timing and delicate sense of touch. His judgment of distance may have been sharpened in field maneuvers.

Golf Corporals Clutter Bankers

Playing on his home course at Spokane, Wash., Ward reached the quarter-finals of the Western amateur championship last month. He was halted by Bill Welch, public links champion from Houston, Tex., who, in turn, bowed to slim, dark Pat Abbott, former stage and screen actor, who eventually won the title. Pat is a two-striper now.

His morale unshaken by this setback, Ward trekked on furlough to Chicago, and paraded through a star-studded field to win the so-called All-America amateur tournament at Chicago. Ward demolished Johnny Lehman (7 and 6), Mike Stolarik (6 and 5) and Wilford Wehrle (7 and 6).

Main Objectives

"I really bore down against Stolarik," Ward admitted, "because I felt that by walloping the sailor from Great Lakes Naval Training Station, I was upholding Army prestige in a service scrap and also drubbing Lieut. Dick Chapman by proxy. Stolarik really spoiled my week-end when he knocked off Dick before I could get a crack at him."

"You know how it is in the Army," Ward joshed. "A mere corporal would give a month's pay to trim a Second Looie down to size. I'd tagged Chapman as my man before the tourney began. That gold bar on Dick's shoulder wouldn't have done him any good against my chevrons. Rank is forgotten when golfers tee up. On the links I'm Chapman's boss and he knows it. Or does he?"

His Thunder Stolen

"Then Stolarik takes the shavetail and steals my thunder! You know," Ward confessed, "I took a ribbing from the Chapman rooters at Winged Foot in 1940 when Billows nudged me out of the national championship which Dick eventually won. Stolarik then, I've been waiting to get Chapman in a man-to-man match, but Stolarik nailed him first at Chicago!"

"That reminds me of the 1929 national amateur at Pebble Beach when Johnny Goodman upset Bobby Jones. The most disappointed guy in the Pebble Beach clubhouse that day was Lawson Little. Lawson, who never suffered from undue modesty, was dead sure he could take the great Jones and hence Little resented Goodman's front page exploit. Lawson wasn't consoled by the fact that he subsequently trounced Goodman."

Propinquity Plays Its Part

"Geography has a lot to do with deciding amateur tournaments," Ward pointed out. "For instance, of the eight quarter-finalists at Chicago, seven hailed from the Mid-West."

"Johnny Holstrom, Wilford Wehrle, Mike Stolarik, Johnny Lehman, Earl Goeke, Frank Stranahan and John Stoltz are all corn-belt products. Incidentally, watch this guy Stranahan from Toledo. He's a golfer! I was the only stranger in that Mid-West monopoly at Tam o' Shanter."

"Now, to follow up my geographic theory, observe how the Pacific Coast crew hogged the honors out at Spokane, Wash., where the Western amateur was held! Of the eight quarter-finalists at Spokane, six were reared on the Pacific Slope—Bruce McCormick, Pat Abbott, Harry Givan, Skee Riegel, March Hammond and myself. The only outsiders in Spokane's last round-up were Wehrle and Welch."

half of the Bristol Suburban League.

eked out a 5-4 victory over Fleetwings at "Kemps" Boccardo and despite a last inning rally were one-run shy at the end. The Fleetwingers had a chance to deadlock the count in the fourth when Breslin opened with a triple but the next three batters could not bring him across.

The Arrows outlit the winners, 9 to 8, and the three extra base hits of the tilt were credited to Arrow batenmen but the five-run spurt in the first for the Voltz-men earned them the verdict.

Voltz-Texaco meets Edgely in the first of a five-game series to determine the championship of the Bristol Suburban League, Sunday afternoon, on St. Ann's field.

Army Officers Bicycle

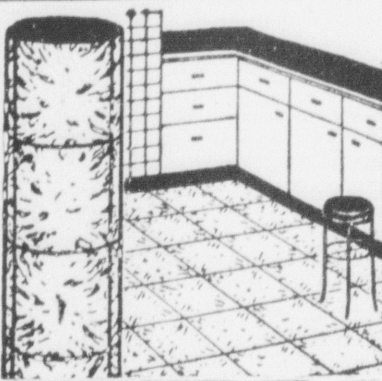

VICTORIA, Tex.—(INS)—Even the

"brass hats!" General orders at Foster Field sharply restrict the use of sedans and reconnaissance cars for travel over the field's hundreds of acres. Instead, the oak-leaved majors and swivel-eyed colonels—as well as lesser fry—use bicycles to get around. It's reported there has been a notable decrease in bodily avoidpools at the field since the order went into effect.
